

Being a service provider during the COVID-19 requires adaptation, quick response, and a supportive community. Our day programs are closed and staff members are settling into new routines. The Pleasant View infection control committee and staff members have been working together to gather together any PPE reserves and spread the word of PPE needs. Community members are making and donating face masks, isolation gowns, and face shields. The health and safety of everyone at Pleasant View is a top priority, we are working diligently to protect everyone. Thank you for all of your help. You can contact Jane Sellers, infection control committee chair, at (540) 820-4801 if you want to help.

The individuals we support are normally very active and in the community during the day and evenings like everyone else. While in quarantine, trying new activities and outlets for creativity has been fun. Yesterday, Direct Support Professional (DSP), Brittany, taped up a design on the picture window in the Turner House kitchen for individuals to paint. Robin and Garland enjoyed painting and were the top artists. If you drive on Strooptown Rd after dark and look at Turner House on the hill, you may be able to see the picture illuminated.

Dave Gullman is planning a Faith & Light Community Zoom service this weekend. The Faith & Light community members will connect, share, pray, and celebrate the Easter story. Beyond the current crisis and concerns, Pleasant View is mourning the loss of Junior Shifflett and have not been able to celebrate his life together. Please hold us in your prayers and help us celebrate what Jesus has done for us all.
